On 27th of August, the Versova Beach Cleanup drive was organized by Afroz Shah Foundation wherein our NSS volunteers participated in beach cleaning.

As we reached there, we were divided into teams of four and a coordinator was assigned to every team. Everyone was provided with a pair of gloves and the coordinator briefed us about the drive. The briefing was very informative. We were told about the various ways we could reuse and recycle plastic and how actually a single piece of plastic is so harmful to the environment.

We then started working as a team , started picking up plastic waste and then dumping it all together. The dump was later picked up by a truck which went further out to decompose it. There was also a useful, inventive machine which could pick up small pieces of plastic. Even after having a hot sunny day, everyone enjoyed the process and cleaned up our mother nature.

This activity helped us learning about plastic, how it should be reused , recycled and how it can affect the environment.
