Introduction

Gender inequality remains one of the most significant social challenges, affecting opportunities, rights, and the overall well-being of individuals. To encourage awareness and meaningful dialogue among students, the Allyn Girls Committee, in collaboration with the NSS Unit of Xavier Institute of Engineering (XIE), organized "Lens of Equality: A Reflective Session on Gender Inequality" on 6th February 2026. The program aimed to educate students about gender-based discrimination, challenge societal stereotypes, and inspire them to contribute towards building a more inclusive and equitable society.

Objective(s)

- To spread awareness about gender inequality.
- To educate students about challenges faced by women in society.
- To encourage open discussions on gender-related issues.
- To promote empathy, equality, and social responsibility.

The session commenced with a warm welcome to all participants and the guest speaker. The speaker discussed various aspects of gender inequality and highlighted how certain regressive customs, including the isolation of women during menstruation, continue to exist despite social progress.

To reinforce the message, two impactful films were screened:

- Juice, a short film portraying gender roles and discrimination within households.
- A documentary on rural sanitary pad production, showcasing women's empowerment through menstrual hygiene awareness and entrepreneurship.

The program concluded with an anonymous interactive Question-and-Answer session, allowing students to openly share their opinions, ask questions, and discuss their perspectives in a safe and respectful environment.

Outcomes of the program:

The session successfully increased awareness about gender inequality among students. Participants gained a deeper understanding of the challenges faced by women and recognized the importance of promoting equal opportunities and respect for all genders.

The event also encouraged students to reflect on societal norms, engage in meaningful conversations, and become active contributors towards creating a more inclusive community.

Conclusion:

The "Lens of Equality" session proved to be an insightful and impactful initiative. Through expert discussions, educational films, and interactive participation, the program successfully sensitized students to gender-related issues and inspired them to become advocates for equality and social justice. The collaborative efforts of the Allyn Girls Committee and the NSS Unit made the event a meaningful platform for learning, reflection, and positive change.
